

MEDIA RELEASE

It's Official – Currumbin Sanctuary's Koalas The Smartest

Amateur photographer, Dr Gretchen Hitchens on a recent visit to Currumbin Wildlife Sanctuary, snapped this picture of some smart Koala's looking for an easier way to reach the more succulent eucalypt leaves found at the top of the tree. The wildlife keeper turned her back for only a moment and the clever Koala's seized the opportunity to scramble up the ladder and enjoy their feast. Far more dignified than scrambling up a tree!

Further information
Judi Vickerman, Currumbin Wildlife Sanctuary
Partnerships Executive
5534 0857, 0411 098 076

Photo: Gretchen Hitchens